Recap from last week . . .

①

When we are looking at root words that end in 'y', we take off the y and swap for an i before adding the suffix.

Complete the tables using the rule you learn last week for adding suffixes to words which end in a single consonant.

| Root word | add suffix 'er' |
|-----------|-----------------|
| heavy     |                 |
| silly     |                 |

| Root word | add suffix 'est' |
|-----------|------------------|
| happy     |                  |
| funny     |                  |

The exception is when we add 'ing' and the root word just stays the same.

| Root word | add suffix 'ing' |
|-----------|------------------|
| fly       |                  |
| dry       |                  |
| reply     |                  |
