

On the Glacier

The three youngsters knew the glacier was dangerous. They might slip on the ice and fall into a crevasse.

After half an hour they came to a wide and deep crevasse with a metal ladder across it. Amber stepped onto the ladder first, while Rory and Coco held the ropes as still as they could.

After three hours of climbing they had made it to camp. The camp cook had hot chocolate waiting for them.

Amber, Rory and Coco waved goodbye to their friends and started to make their way up the glacier. It was hard work because the ice was bumpy and slippery. Soon their legs felt like jelly.

On the Glacier - Questions

1. Who did Amber, Rory and Coco wave goodbye to?
2. What are the youngsters in this story doing?
3. How did their legs feel? Why do you think they felt like this?
4. Why was the ice dangerous?
5. How did they cross the deep crevasse?
6. What did the camp cook have ready for them?
7. How long did it take them to get to the camp?
8. Find two phrases that remind us that the glacier is not a space place.
 -
 -